

How competitive is your data management infrastructure?

Find out – with Cloud, Data Centre and Automation Assessments from IGXGlobal.

To stay competitive, businesses are always looking for ways to streamline their operations and deliver better experiences for their users.

The cloud, data centres, and the automation of workflows and systems around data are integral to business success. So these are key areas of focus.

But how do you find out where your strengths and weaknesses are?

IGXGlobal offers a range of in-depth assessments to help you uncover an accurate view of your data management infrastructure. Where there are challenges, we will provide guidance on how to overcome them.

Cloud and Data Assessments

Interested in optimising resources, reducing data centre risk, and preparing for hybrid computing? Our cloud and data centre assessments provide actionable insights about your environment, so you can deliver a better digital experience for your users.

Public Cloud Cost Optimisation Assessment

What's the best way to distribute your workload to get the most value out of the cloud?

Multi-Cloud Feasibility Assessment

Is it worth moving your current environment – servers, software, storage, and licensing – to the cloud?

Multi-Cloud Readiness and Migration Assessment

Decided to move to the cloud but not sure what to do next?

Data Centre Assessment

Want to know if your data centre can be improved to make it better able to support your digital business?

Data Centre Lifecycle Assessment

What strategy and tactics should you use to make sure your data centre will thrive in the future?

Storage Assessment

How robust is your data storage system and how can you improve it?

VMWare vSphere Optimisation Assessment

Are your vSphere environment and IT infrastructure performing as well as they could be?

Automation Assessment

Automating workflows and systems around data can reduce costs and offer advanced services to your customers. But is your company's organisational and cultural environment ready for it?

Find out with our Automation Assessment. We'll evaluate your infrastructure, systems, workflow and working practices to determine the effort and cost expected to bring your business to automation readiness.

To find out more about how a Cloud, Data Centre or Automation assessment could benefit your organisation, please email assessments@igxglobal.com